TUSCARORA
1964

Foreword

This book was produced for you, the students. Through words and pictures, the TUSCARORA STAFF tried to outline the many things you shared with your classmates day by day. To everyone at MEADOW HIGH SCHOOL--this is YOUR YEAR.

Realities of all types made the year wonderful. Whether studying or cheering your superb teams to victory, you were a part of it. The Staff has only furnished an outline of the year. Each detail is up to the individual. Underclassmen will strive for improvement. Graduates will use their knowledge gained here to reach their successes.

Years from now, it will not be easy to think of 1964. In later years, while turning these pages, you will appreciate the memories stored within.

With This . . .

School Song

Hail to thee Dear Meadow High School,
With your black and gold,
We, the students truly love thee,
Just as you've been told.

Lift the chorus, speed it onward,
Honor and obey,
Hail to thee Dear Meadow High School,
Each and every day.

DEDICATED TO Mr. LaFayette Westbrook

The Seniors of 1964 honor this man for his loyalty, his guidance, and his leadership to the students of Meadow School.

A man respected by all students who appreciate the knowledge which they gained in his classes. Besides instilling a knowledge of history into our minds, he helped to make our play a success.

We wish to express our many thanks for all his services and to assure him that we will always remember him as a dedicated teacher.

Principal's Message to Seniors

Dear Meadow School Seniors,

Congratulations to each of you for having advanced to this point in your education. Through persistence and good study habits you have attained a basic education which will permit you to move forward as a college student, an apprentice, an office worker, or perhaps a skilled laborer.

As you enter a new environment and are confronted by the many complex problems of our day and age, you will find, on many occasions, you cannot solve some of your problems through simple mathematics or other theories learned in school. It is entirely possible that in some instances there will be no definite answer. However, as history has so often revealed to us, the educated person is better able to face the complexities of everyday living and make adjustments thereto with less effort than is required of the uneducated person.

Unlimited opportunity awaits those of you who possess the ability and desire to do well. Never before in the history of the world has any society been blessed with the wide range of opportunities that exist in America today. Your only limitations will be your own personal limitations. If you experience a life of success, chances are you will have earned a life of success. As a famous writer and philosopher once said, "The person who wakes up and finds himself a success hasn't been asleep."

It is indeed a pleasure to have been associated with you during the past few years. You will always fill a special place in the hearts and minds of them of us here at Meadow School.

With best personal wishes, I am

Sincerely,

George G. Beasley

Message to Parents of Seniors

To you, parents, we'd like to say,
Thank you for what you did for us each day.
You fed us, you clothed us, you sent us to school,
You taught us to live by the golden rule,
Dear Parents-- thank you.

At times it seemed all your work was in vain,
We crushed your dreams, filled your hearts with pain.
But, now parents we have grown much older,
Thanks to you--wiser and bolder,
Dear parents--thank you.

Class History

September . . . Autumn . . . Missiles . . . Khrushchev . . . Eisenhower . . . Choice words of petite beauty, yet somewhat totally unfamiliar to our little minds, but words which, in the course of time, would become a part of us. For we--as six-year olds at this time--were a changing part of the changing times. The change--school! But, as the school years came and went, we found ourselves unaware of this change . . . for time passed rather quickly in those days.

In the fall of 1960, we entered high school. This was a change--pin-ups and push-ups. Our teachers that year who led us through that lost year were Miss Elizabeth Crawford and Mr. John D. Kernodle. However, we soon fitted into the new routine. Our officers for our freshman year were Wayne Lee, president; Dianne Morgan, vice-president; Phyllis Clifton, secretary; Janice Johnson, treasurer; and Johnny Smith, reporter.

Another year, Aristotle and Plato became familiar names in World History. We, the sophisticated, but often referred to as "sloppy," chose as our officers for the year Wayne Lee, president; Charlie Barefoot, vice-president; Sylvia Lee, secretary; Judy Beasley, treasurer; and Patricia Williams, reporter. Those helping us carry out our responsibilities were Mr. Bernard Godwin and Mr. Lafayette Westbrook.

In our Junior year, we, the hard working and daring, anticipated a wonderful year filled with many more activities than years before. We chose as our leading classmen Dianne Morgan, president; Johnny Smith, vice-president; Delores Parker, secretary; Frances Godwin, treasurer; and Patricia Williams, reporter. Mr. George Wilson and Mrs. Lois Hood willingly contributed their needed help and leadership. In our Junior play, "One Foot in Heaven," Clark Williams, as Mr. Spence, exemplified in his role the moral that we must not be satisfied with what we merely have accomplished in life, but to seek responsibility and greater heights. Thinking of our future, we journeyed to "Career Day" at Smithfield to become more acquainted with careers and colleges. After much planning and hard work, we entertained our upper classmates with "Sayonara," the theme of our Junior-Senior Prom. We ended our year with a wiener roast at Williams' Lake in May.

By now, the changes of the past eleven years had "supposedly" made us dignified Seniors. We, now self-assured and confident, realized that education is a way of life. Leaders who guided us were Miss Elizabeth Massad and Mr. J. R. Godwin. Senior officers were Wayne Lee, president; Charlie Barefoot, vice-president; Judy Beasley, secretary; Lena Ann Jones, treasurer; and Delores Parker, reporter. We were determined to make this year the best. The arrival of class rings, our presentation of the Senior play, "Take Care of My Little Girl," publishing the Tuscarora, and the Meadowlark were a few of our many cherished activities.

Our goal most attempted--GRADUATION--drew near, and we prepared to bid farewell to our dear alma mater. We, the graduating class of 1964, truly love thee and treasure deep within our hearts memories that were a stage in our life.

Yes . . . changing years! But these years--being inspired by God and our fellowmen--had molded and prepared us for the challenging world that lay beyond. We were indeed glad to have a part of this change.

Prophecy

The year 1980 finds me exploring the planet, Mars. As I prepare to end my explorations here, I receive a brainwave from the planet Earth, of which I used to be an inhabitant before I became interested in space exploration.

From the brainwave, I learn that some of my fellow classmates of the graduating class of 1964 have made some great accomplishments.

JIMMY ADAMS is happily married and is a prosperous real-estate agent in Dunn, North Carolina. LACY JERNIGAN is his assistant.

TOMMY WOOD is now a famous astronaut who recently gave up after orbiting the earth 99 times in his space capsule designed by JACOB LEE.

My brainwaves are still coming in loudly and clearly. The next message tells me that GAYLE MCLAMB, MARY LOU RAYNOR, and JUDY MAE JOHNSON are married and living happily in the metropolis of Meadow.

Now, let's turn to the business world. JUDY BEASLEY is now co-owner of Eldridge Coca-Cola Bottling Company in Dunn, North Carolina. DELORES PARKER is her private secretary.

JUDY FAYE JOHNSON is now head designer for Macy's Department Store in Meadow, owned by EDSEL WOOD. GLORIA WEST is sales manager of this noted firm.

PEGGY BAREFOOT and NANCY HAWLEY are the co-owners and operators of Meadow Beauty Salon. Two of their top stylists now in Paris are SANDRA MCLAMB and JANICE MCLAMB.

Some of the graduates of Tart's Business School, headed by MARTY TART, who have now established their own private businesses are GEARLDINE TART, BETTY PARKER, GLENDA THORNTON, and LINDA POWELL.

JANICE JOHNSON and BETTY LOU TART just recently returned from their location in Rome where they have been filming a spectacular, new movie entitled "Roman Disaster."

My brainwave has just been interrupted by a flash from the world of sports. I find that the baseball team of the Meadow Metropolis has just captured the World Series title. This great team is headed by Coach JOHNNY SMITH. Pitcher STACY MCLAMB hurled a no-hitter in the final game. RONNIE WILKINS contributed to the victory with a hot 750 batting average during the seven-game series.

Leaving the sports scene, and turning to new New York City, I learn that FRANCES GODWIN has just won the Pulitzer Prize for her great accomplishments in the field of poetry.

Also in New York are JACKY MASSENGILL, JOYCE ELLIS, and JUDY HUDSON, who are doing commercials for a television program on which comedienne CAROL EVANS is the star.

DIANNE MORGAN is now President of Columbia University. Some of the recent graduates of Columbia are LENA JONES, who received her Ph.D. degree in political science, PHYLLIS CLIFTON, who is head psychiatrist of all United States institutes and SYLVIA LEE, world-famous research scientist who just discovered a new wonder drug.

By the way, CORBETT BLACKMAN is now doing well as a mathematician for a large space agency. TRESA WOOD is director of the United States Art Exhibit in Washington, D. C. Speaking of Washington, WAYNE LEE is now President of the United States while KEITH TART is serving as Attorney General of the United States. Turning to the automobile industry in Detroit, Michigan, I find CLARK WILLIAMS, President of the Chrysler Corporation. Competing with him are SHELTON ADAMS of the Ford Corporation and CHARLIE BAREFOOT, head of General Motors. RONNIE WILLIAMS is now operating the Meadow-500 Speedway. Recent winners have been E. J. YOUNG, with his Ford and JERRY BEASLEY driving a fast Mercury.

As my brainwave is gradually fading away, I must now return to my space ship and journey farther out into space. Perhaps, I shall meet some of my old classmates on my journey.

Our Junior play "One Foot In Heaven" included a cast of 18 members. Reverend William Spence (Clark Williams), a practical minister with deep sincerity; his wife, Hope Spence (Phyllis Clifton) youthful and understanding; their son, Hartzell (Charlie Barefoot) and daughter Eileen (Patricia Williams) moved into the small community of Laketon, Iowa in 1910. The family found much jealousness and many unfriendly attitudes among the church workers, especially Mrs. Cambridge (Judy Johnson), Mrs. Jellison (Sylvia Lee), Mrs. Sandow (Betty Tart), Mrs. Digby (Carol Evans) and Major Cooper (Johnny Smith). The Spence family set a good example and persuaded all members to work together for the church. Father being very dedicated to his work saw there was no challenge ahead and he decided to move again even if it did mean disappointing his family which had just moved into the new parsonage built by a group of devoted church workers.

A cast of 21 players presented our Senior play, "Take Care of my Little Girl." The play concerned a girls' sorority in any of the American colleges of today. The Queens Sorority inducted pledges that were from well-to-do families and aimed to get the top trophy for the best sorority on campus. Becky Stone (Dianne Morgan) is not accepted and Adelaide Swanson (Betty Tart) dropped out. Elizabeth Erickson (Patricia Williams) seeking prestige and popularity remained in the sorority. Casey (Carol Evans), a friend of Elizabeth, helped Liz decide that she was not really satisfied with sorority life. The sorority president, Merry (Sylvia Lee); the rush chairman, (Jacky Massengill); an influential alumna, (Judy Johnson); along with the other members, decided that Liz was definitely not Queen material.

Waiters and Waitresses

On Friday evening, May 3, 1963, the Juniors entertained the Seniors and "honorable wise ones" with a prom. Each member of our class hopped into his rickshaw along with his favorite coolie and hurried down to the Ching Ming where he was guaranteed more than a Chinaman's chance for a wonderful time under wind chimes and oriental latterns. It was SAYONARA with a bit of rice and tea served from a grass teahouse by colorful orient "helpies."
